SHANGHAI, China.

Dear Sir:

I attach hereto a letter addressed to my sister, Mrs. Anita Eden-Miller, whose last address known to me is: Lyon House, 127, Room 16, Rubbling Hall, Lane 701, Shanghai, and at which address she has resided for a year or more. The last letter received from her was dated July 19, which is before the outbreak of the present trouble in China and you will readily understand that I am greatly worried about her, as she has been in the habit of writing to me weekly and since that date her letters have ceased.

In order to facilitate your enquiries in regard to my sister's whereabouts, I may add that in her last letter to me she stated that she intended going to NAO CHIAO, for a month. She also has a friend Mrs. J.P. MARSH, 630- Rue de Seiyes, Shanghai, who may be able to give some information about her. A woman by the name of Mrs. Lebanson (I am not quite certain of the right spelling) was supposed to have gone with her to NAO CHIAO. This is all the information I am able to give. I am very anxious to have her come to stay with me, if she is willing to leave, but until I know where to locate her, no definite plan can be made, and I am taking this means of getting in touch with her.

Anything you can do for me by way of getting me in communication with my sister, and advising me regarding her well-being, will be greatly appreciated.

Yours truly,

(Miss) L. Rose.

P.S., I am employed as Secretary with the R.C. M.Police for many years, and have been advised to communicate with you in regard to locating my sister.

L.R.
